Background:

Sangre de Drago Liquid Resin Extract, also known as Dragon's Blood, is extracted from medium/large tropical trees that thrive within the Amazonian regions of South America. When the trunk of the tree is cut or wounded, it exudes a dark, red, resinous sap that resembles blood.

The extensive beneficial properties of the thick resin and tree bark are well known by indigenous tribes of Mexico, Peru and Ecuador. They painted the sap onto their skin to help protect and soothe their skin from a wide array of skin concerns.

Sangre de Drago Liquid Resin Extract's unique combination of properties make the resin an exceptional ingredient in formulations intended to soothe and protect problem, damaged and maturing skin.

Praan Naturals premium quality Sangre de Drago Liquid Resin Extract is carefully sourced and packaged to maintain the purity and freshness of this highly nutritive and aromatic fluid resin.
